Chapman & Spingola wins summary judgment on behalf of Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP in recruiter lawsuit

CHICAGO — Chapman & Spingola attorneys, Robert Chapman and Sara Siegall defended international law firm Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman against a recruiter's action for a six-figure finder's fee arising from a lateral partner hire in Pillsbury's New York office.

"Following extensive briefing and presentation at oral argument," says Siegall, "the trial court entered summary judgment in Pillsbury's favor on the ground that the recruiter was not the procuring cause of the partner-hire."

The case is pending on appeal.
